

The FCT086 is an optional tray which can be inserted into the FCE126HD flightcase, offering an additional and removable compartment for transportation and storage of cables or other accessories. The construction is made of black coated plywood with a thickness of 15 mm which is provided with convenient handle openings.

